“Fraud in the Age of Digital Currency”

This presentation will provide an overview of the types of fraud that are committed in the world of digital currencies. Ciphertrace, a leader in blockchain security, released a report indicating that thefts and frauds in the digital currency space had topped $4.4 Billion at the end of the third financial quarter of 2019. The success of digital currency fraudsters is a result of public and regulator misunderstanding of the technology. Evaluating case studies of digital currency frauds ...
